The Matinee Music club will meet Thursday of this week with Miss Ida Tinker, 517 Fillmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Whitaker will entertain the Impromptu club at dinner Wednesday night at their home, 1132 Taylor street.

A meeting of the executive board of the Topeka Federation of Women was held this afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. S. S. Estey.

There is a Topeka chap attending the State university at Lawrence who is not there to make a great splash socially, but who is a sort of worth-while young man with a backbone of adamant. He is helping his father to pay his expenses at school, and he is doing it by waiting on tables in a students' boarding house. His predecessor in the funny business, when the students he knew came to eat, stood behind the curtains and handed the dishes out to the landlady, but our Topeka friend goes all the way, serves the hash and clears up the table. After his work is done, if there is any time left, he joins the other students at the piano in the songs they sing, and he has just as good a time as any of them.

A few days ago he got word that his best girl friend and a chum of hers, who belong to well-to-do families and have a good social position, were going to show up at the university to pay him a visit—intended to be there a whole day. One of the boys learned of the pending visit, and kindly offered his help. "I'll take your place the day you're here," he said, "and take care of the tables. Nobody will squeal, and the girls won't know you are a waiter." The Topeka boy wavered a minute. Then he squared his shoulders—just like that—and answered his friend: "It's good of you to offer, but I am not ashamed of my job. I will take care of my work that day, and what is more, I mean to bring the girls here to eat. I shall serve them myself." And he did. Not a bad sample of nerve for a school boy.

A St. Patrick's party was given at the Switzer home on Topeka avenue by Helen Leuenberger, Reba Austin and Dorothy Switzer. The guests were Misses Irene Hamby, Hazel Tipton, Ruth Switzer, Nellie White, Lucile Simmons, Mildred Grice, Gertrude Clinkenberg, Julia Huley, Daley Grubbs, Cleora Brittain, Eva Griest, Ina Banks, Bertha Reed, Esther Welton, Ethel Work, Merle Shimer, Nanette Osborn, Martha Varner, May Horne, Gretchen Pedigo, Eleanor Switzer and Mrs. G. A. Switzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Calkins announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Metta Calkins, to Mr. Harry Steffen of Elgin, Ill.

Miss Metta Calkins.

Harry Steffen of Elgin, Ill. Formal announcement will be made to a circle of the friends of the young couple tonight. The Calkins family are all musical, and Mr. Calkins has organized some orchestras which have played at local theaters. Miss Calkins is a pianist, having studied with De Rode in the east. Mr. Steffen is a cellist.

Mr. Harry Steffen of Elgin, Ill.

of Illinois. He was, for seven years, a pupil of Steindel, and he has played in concert in all the large cities of the middle east.

A meeting for the mothers of the southwest section of the city will be held in Central Park Christian church Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. George H. Whitcomb will make an address.

Women never wade so deep into politics that they don't take the social and the home touches along with them. They simply cannot hold a meeting in an undorned hall, no matter how engrossed they are in the uplift nor how intense and single their purpose to reform humanity at one fell swoop. At all their meetings they have a little music, and usually there is a bouquet of flowers on the desk. The Shawnee County Political Science club, in spite of its business-like name, is no exception. The club is having a rug made for the rostrum of its assembly room in the National hotel, and some other home touches are being planned for the room. The club holds its meetings regularly at the hotel, for the purpose of studying political subjects. It is their aim to understand the present system of government in its various departments without regard to the partisan aspect of it. The next meeting of the club will be an evening session, open to all who wish to attend it, and the speaker will be one of the professors from the State university.

A costume party was given by Mrs. Charles Gault and Mrs. Adelaide Smith for their daughters, Babbie Gault, who celebrated her thirteenth anniversary Saturday, and Isabel Smith, who was ten years old on that day. The guests were dressed to represent different characters or classes of people. Babbie wore a Bacchante in a dress and Isabel a shepherdess costume. The guests were: Jean Koontz in a ballet costume; Katherine Mullin, a Japanese woman; Octavia O'Neil, a Princess; Edna Peppmyer, a gypsy girl; Ruth Auerbach, a Japanese woman; Marian Reid, an Italian flower girl; Katherine Cole, a young society girl; Virginia Miller and Ruth Barnes.

The Tau Delta Phi honorary fraternity of Washburn will initiate its new members Wednesday evening. Members of the Tau Delta Phi and the Phi Beta Kappa are invited to attend the initiation service, at 8 o'clock in Boswell hall. The new members are: Miss Cozie Crawford, Miss Margaret Tiltonson, Miss Mary Helen Shirer, Miss Mabel Marsh, Mr. Merrill Ream and Mr. Rollo Harger. After the initiation Professor Schonberger will read a new play, "The East."

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Foley will entertain at dinner Friday night for Mr. and Mrs. James Cable, who will leave soon for their former home in Kansas City. Mr. and Mrs. Cable have lived in Topeka the past two years, making their home at the Manspeaker.

The Ideal Card club was entertained at a bridge-luncheon today by Mrs. E. Lagerstrom. Mrs. Dorsey, guest of Des Moines, Iowa, was a guest of the club.

Mrs. Fred Zutavern of Great Bend, who has been in Topeka during the legislative session with Mr. Zutavern of the house of representatives, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. S. J. Crumline. The other guests were: Mrs. Jovett Shouse, Mrs. Francis Price, Mrs. Earl Akers, Mrs. J. T. Botkin, Mrs. Ben S. Paulsen, Mrs. C. F. Foley.

Mrs. Luther Burns will entertain two tables at bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home in Potwin Place.

The Vespucci club will meet with Mrs. Charles Hammond Thursday, at 2:30 o'clock at her home, corner of Ohio and Canary streets.

The Thursday Study club will have a meeting Thursday of this week with Mrs. C. A. Kline, 1921 Buchanan street, instead of with Mrs. A. M. Thorner.

Mrs. H. L. Shirer was hostess at a thimble party for Mrs. Louise Daniels, who will be married soon to Mr. Fred Woodbury of Olivet, Kan. The guests presented Mrs. Daniels with a handsome intillate silver plate. The company included the members of the old Helping Hand society of the First Congregational church, of which Mrs. Daniels was a member.

Notes and Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Price, of Pittsburg, Kan., have returned home, after a short visit to Mr. Price's sister, Mrs. Marie Price Wear.

Miss Margaret Russell will go to Dodge City to teach German in the high school for a month, substituting for the regular teacher who has a leave of absence. Miss Russell is a graduate of Washburn college, and last year she took her M. A. degree at Columbia university.

Mrs. George M. Noble will entertain the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, March 24, at her home, 627 Lincoln street.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. King have returned from St. Louis, where they were called by the illness and death of Mr. King's brother, Captain Henry King.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
